The aromatic herbs that grow in the region have a strong taste, known also for their extensive use. A visit in Epirus is incomplete unless you taste tsipouro, the local drink. The traditional workshops scattered in the regions of Epirus reflect on its rich folklore tradition that dates from the ancient times. There you will meet many wood-carvers and local craftsmen who are involved in the creation of beautiful jewelry, items of daily use, ceramic pots and other objects to decorate your household or keep them as life souvenirs. Most of the local shops in Epirus were opened by local women who specialize in the art of embroidery.
