Household “Janin Raj”, owned by Cvetkovic family has been many times awarded as the most beautiful yard in the area of Kragujevac and Central Serbia region. In the yard, one can see a vajat (wooden building with storage purpose, once a love nest for newlyweds), milk house, old household items, tools and dishes that were once used for preparing food, but now they serve as vessels from which colorful flowers overflow in cascades. There are also swings, fountain and other items that complete this tourist offer. Additionally, “Janin Raj” is famous for its distinctive traditional cuisine from Sumadia, specialties prepared following grandmas’ recipes. All products come from their garden, regular meals served to overnight guests and meals served during celebrations are homemade healthy products. Except from the vast garden in which organic fruits and vegetables are grown without the use of pesticides, Cvetkovic family has become known for quail egg production, which are extremely good for the immune system and against anemia. They produce variety of products made of goat milk, such as different types of cheese, one of which is marinated in olive oil, and clotted cream. In the household, they produce all kinds of processed meat, smoked pork tenderloin, and additionally very tasty juices from different kinds of fruits. Most frequently “Janin Raj” organizes lunches for up to 60 guests, but tourists are offered services such as B & B, half board, and full board. The thing which is most interesting to children is a mini zoo, where they can play with domesticated Alpine goats and kids, ornamental poultry, hens and roosters of different sorts, among which so called “Turkish singer” stands out. Household also keeps common “golden” pheasants, canaries, parrots, Mandarin wild ducks, rabbits and so on.
